The Notice of Privacy Practices describes how we may use and disclose your protected health information (PHI) to carry out treatment, payment, or health care operations (TPO) and for other purposes that are permitted or required by law. It also describes your rights to access and control your protected health information. "Protected Health Information" is information about you, including demographic information, that may identify you and that relates to your past, present or future physical or mental health condition and related health care services.

USES AND DISCLOSURES OF PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION

Your protected health information may be used by treating providers, our office staff, and others outside of our office that are involved in your care and treatment for the purpose of providing health care services to you, to pay your health care bills, to support the operation of the physician's practice and any other use required by law.

Treatment: We will use and disclose your protected health information to provide, coordinate, or manage your health care and any related services. This includes the coordination or management of your health care with a third party. For example, your protected health information may be provided to a physician to ensure that the physician has the necessary information to diagnose or treat you.

Payment: Your protected health information will be used, as needed, to obtain payment for your health care services. For example, we may need to give your health plan information about your treatment for reimbursement purposes. We may also tell your health plan about a treatment you are going to receive to obtain approval or to determine whether your plan will cover the treatment.

Healthcare Operations: We may use and disclose protected health information about you for operations of our health care practice. These uses and disclosures are necessary to run our practice and make sure that all of our patients receive quality care. For example, we may use health information to review our treatment and services and to evaluate the performance of our staff in caring for you. We may also combine health information about many patients to decide what additional services we should offer, what services are not needed or whether certain new treatments are effective. In addition, we may use a sign-in sheet at the registration desk where you will be asked to sign your name and indicate your physician. We may also call you by name in the waiting room when your provider is ready to see you. We may use or disclose your information, as necessary, to contact you to remind you of your appointment or inform you of the need for an appointment, and inform you about health related benefits and services that may interest you.

We may use or disclose your protected health information in the following situations without your authorization. These situations may include: as required by law, public health issues as required by law, communicable diseases, health oversight, abuse or neglect, food and drug administration requirements, legal proceedings, law enforcement, coroners, funeral directors, organ donation, research, criminal activity, military activity and national security, workers' compensation, inmates, and other required uses and disclosures. Under the law, we must make disclosures to you upon your request. Under the law, we must also disclose your protected health information when required by the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services to investigate or determine compliance with the requirements.

Other Permitted and Required Uses and Disclosures will be made only with your consent, authorization or opportunity to object unless required by law. A separate authorization is required for uses and disclosures of your protected health information for psychotherapy notes, marketing purposes, and sale of protected health information. You may be contacted for fundraising purposes, but you have the right to opt out of such communications. You may revoke the authorization, at any time, in writing, to the extent that your physician or the physician's practice has taken action in reliance on the use or disclosure indicated in the authorization.
